

September 2007

Welcome! Thank you for becoming a participating provider with WellCare.

We recognize that, at times, the administrative requirements of managing your patients' health care can be complex. This Provider Handbook is a source of answers to questions you may have about WellCare coverage procedures, policies and other facts related to your provision of health care services to its members.

As described in your contract with WellCare (the "Provider Agreement") this Provider Handbook supplements and provides additional terms and conditions regarding your provision of covered services to WellCare members. In the event of a conflict between the Provider Agreement or any contract providing member coverage ("Coverage Document"), the Provider Agreement or Coverage Document will control over this Provider Handbook.

The purpose of any medical policy that may be included in this Provider Handbook is to provide guidelines to facilitate coverage decisions and is not intended to influence treatment decisions. While WellCare medical policy assists in making appropriate coverage decisions that promote consistent, high quality and cost-effective health care, providers are independent contractors and have an independent professional responsibility for the provision of health care to their patients in accordance with community standards regardless of any WellCare coverage decision. Nothing in this Provider Handbook shall be construed as creating any relationship between you and WellCare other than that of independent entities that have contracted with each other solely for the purpose of providing the services described in the Provider Agreement.

WellCare makes no representations or warranties with respect to the content herein and specifically disclaims any implied warranties of merchantability of fitness for any particular purpose.

This handbook is given to providers participating in any WellCare network. Nothing in this handbook shall be interpreted as guaranteeing coverage of any service, treatment, drugs or supplies because coverage or non-coverage is always governed exclusively by the terms of the member's Coverage Document. Accordingly, in case of any question or doubt about coverage, you should always review the member's particular health benefit plan.

Updates to any part of this Provider Handbook may be made by WellCare at any time, so you should not assume that the Provider Handbook remains current just because you have not received a replacement handbook. As described in your Provider Agreement, WellCare may give notice of such updates in a variety of ways, depending on the nature of the update, including issuance of a new handbook, in a letter to you, publication in a provider newsletter or other publications of WellCare, or by posting to the WellCare Web site.

Thank you for your participation with WellCare. We look forward to helping you provide the highest quality of care to Georgia members.