WELLCARE EMPLOYEES TEAM UP WITH HABITAT FOR HUMANITY TO FINISH HOME FOR FAMILY

Home in USF area for single mom and children

Tampa, FL—(May 30, 2007) A team of some 30 volunteers from the Tampa headquarters of WellCare Health Plans, Inc. (NYSE:WCG) is helping a family realize their dream of home ownership. The WellCare volunteers worked with Habitat for Humanity to help build a home near the University of South Florida on Saturday, May 19.

The WellCare team spent the day landscaping, painting and putting siding on a home that is being built for a single mother and her five children.

“As a company we want to be a good corporate citizen, but our participation in Habitat for Humanity is more than that,” said John Aberg, vice president, corporate communications at WellCare. “Working together to help provide a home for a family that had been unable to own a home of their own gives each member of our team an opportunity to give back to our community and the people we serve.”

“We thank the WellCare team for their help in making this home a reality for this family,” said Ralph Jackson, executive director of Habitat for Humanity of Hillsborough County. “Our corporate partners are integral to the work we do, and we appreciate the time and effort they put into helping our families.”

“Programs like Habitat for Humanity have a positive impact on people in our community and we’re pleased to support their efforts in the Tampa area,” Aberg said.
