APPLICATION STATEMENT

The application of the Clinical Coverage Guideline is subject to the benefit determinations set forth by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) National and Local Coverage Determinations and state-specific Medicaid mandates, if any.

DISCLAIMER

The Clinical Coverage Guideline (CCG) is intended to supplement certain standard WellCare benefit plans and aid in administering benefits. Federal and state law, contract language, etc. take precedence over the CCG (e.g., Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services [CMS] National Coverage Determinations [NCDs], Local Coverage Determinations [LCDs] or other published documents). The terms of a member's particular Benefit Plan, Evidence of Coverage, Certificate of Coverage, etc., may differ significantly from this Coverage Position. For example, a member's benefit plan may contain specific exclusions related to the topic addressed in this CCG. Additionally, CCGs relate exclusively to the administration of health benefit plans and are NOT recommendations for treatment, nor should they be used as treatment guidelines. Providers are responsible for the treatment and recommendations provided to the member. The application of the CCG is subject to the benefit determinations set forth by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) National and Local Coverage Determinations, and any state-specific Medicaid mandates. Links are current at time of approval by the Medical Policy Committee (MPC) and are subject to change. Lines of business are also subject to change without notice and are noted on www.wellcare.com. BACKGROUND

Florida Medicaid’s Statewide Inpatient Psychiatric Program (SIPP) is a residential program of sub-acute mental health related services provided in an institution enrolled as a SIPP provider with the State of Florida. These institutions are secure, locked residential treatment programs for children and adolescents up to age 21. This level of care removes the child from his/her home for extended periods of time, sometimes far away from their family. This level of care is considered to be a very restrictive level of care that should be rarely used as it is intended for high risk youth with documented psychiatric diagnoses who have failed to benefit from multiple admissions to acute inpatient services and who cannot be safely maintained in traditional or comprehensive outpatient services.
A primary goal of SIPP is to stabilize individuals so that they can safely return to the care of their parents and/or guardians in the community and function appropriately within their developmental role. Therefore, the involvement and participation of the parents and/or guardians is required and essential throughout the SIPP process; Staywell will make every effort to place the child in a Florida SIPP close to the family home.

Diagnostic Issues

SIPP services are for children who exhibit behaviors that pose a threat to themselves or others such that they require 24/7 care longer than would normally be provided by acute, short stay, IP hospitalization. SIPP will be available to children with a disorder of mood or thought that severely impairs behavior, until the child meets criteria for treatment in a less restrictive environment. For patients with Borderline Personality Disorder (BPD), brief inpatient care is preferable to manage crises as it is recognized that longer stays for patients with BPD may lead to aggression and worsening of symptoms.

Disorders of attention and/or conduct, where the child knows the wrongfulness of his or her behavior and refuses to conform their behavior to the requirements of the social setting (be it home or institution) do not qualify for SIPP and may be referred for intensive in home therapies, and/or to the juvenile justice system where and when appropriate.

Staywell expects SIPP services to be comprehensive, multidisciplinary, and focused on stabilizing the emotional and behavioral issues that necessitated admission to a residential level of care, as well as identifying and treating any underlying issues related to abuse, trauma, neglect or family conflicts, and providing skills training to foster a strong sense of resiliency and competence. Identification of skill deficits needed to function more effectively in the community, skill training, and treatment designed to facilitate resiliency in children. These are required components of the service.

Family involvement in the treatment process is expected throughout the course of the admission and throughout treatment, including the beginning, middle and end; this is often the single most important predictor of treatment success. Therefore, a Staywell Family Agreement Form must be signed by the parent/guardian and submitted with the referral/request packet or completed prior authorization form. During discharge planning, each child/family is offered targeted case management to help with the transition back to the community and ensure all the necessary linkages to facilitate engagement in all needed aftercare services.

At a minimum, the following services should be provided throughout the member’s treatment in SIPP:

- Psychiatric evaluation/medication management at least once (1 x) per month
- Individual/group at least three times (3 x) per week
- Family therapy sessions at least twice (2 x) month via phone or face to face
- Clinical assessment once (1 x) per day by licensed clinician or a staff member under the supervision of a licensed clinician
- Ongoing educational program
- Assessment of specific skills needed to successfully return to the home environment and ongoing skills training

SIPP programs are not considered to be an emergency service; requests for authorization will be processed in up to seven (7) days. All SIPP placements are voluntary and are subject to the family’s agreement with the expectations of the service and their participation.

Historically, applications to SIPP programs have been screened through a community staffing process that is run by a managing entity or community services provider. If this community process remains in operation, Staywell will make reasonable effort to attend the meetings to give input and clinical support.
